Born May 11, 1978, Adam was the son of Mark A. and Leslee K. (Janes) Scott. He married Tammy Lea Pygott on May 7, 2010 in Champaign, IL. Survivors include his loving wife, Tammy Lea Scott, and their four year old daughter, Vivian Margaret Scott, who reside in Orlando, FL; his father, Mark Scott and wife Shelly of Mattoon, IL,; his mother, Leslee (Janes) Dean of Mattoon, IL; four brothers, Beau M. Scott, Isaac C. Clodfelder and wife Jessica, Alex S. Winkler and wife Rebekah, and Noah N. Scott, all of Mattoon, IL; and his in-laws, Lee and Cathy Pygott of Mattoon, IL. He was preceded in death by a sister, Danielle Scott.

Adam was employed with Universal Studios. He was a movie buff and a comic book fan and former collector. He was also known for his wealth of trivial facts and random information. Prior to meeting his wife and starting their family,

Adam was a very private individual and considered himself to be a loner. After becoming a family man, Adam found a new perspective and became more outgoing and open. He cherished family vacations, picnics in the park, dinner and the movies, comedy clubs, and any activity he shared with his “girls,” as he affectionately referred to his wife and daughter. Nothing was more important or gave him greater joy than being a father. He was a wonderful father and devoted husband.

Memorials in his honor may be made to Tammy and Vivian Scott, in care of Mitchell-Jerdan Funeral Home.

“ I met Adam when I was hired to work at Papa Johns here in Colorado 14 years ago and we hit it off immediately. We were both movie buffs and comic book nerds. We've constantly talked via Facebook over the years and just about a week before he went home to Heaven he talked to me because I was pretty depressed with my life at that time and he uses movies to help cheer me up and it worked. Lol. I love you Adam. Our friendship meant the world to me even with so many miles between us. I have your messages saved for when I feel down.

“ I’m really not good at expressing stories out loud but when asked to write something I knew I had too. There are so many stories I could share about how great Adam is but writing them all down would take as long as I’ve known him since working for the GCC. I use to love sitting by him when I was on the phones as the scenarios he would use to explain things to guest always had me laughing. His knowledge of movies and what happened when/where in them was beyond anyone else I had ever meet. The topics we use to talk about covered everything from the movies to my bbq I would bring him to take him, off the wall/twisted comments to why Church’s chicken was not allowed to be eaten. Every day I use to see him I would yell his name and he’d always turn to me , point to himself and go “That’s me”. We use to wave at each other like special short bus riders the few times I got to walk into the room he was sitting in like little kids. Adam truly was a hero to me as we talked about everything we had been through growing up and where we are now. He truly loved his family, friends and just making people smile. Adam will always be my twisted Ying to Yang in sarcasm and I’ll care that in my heart always.

“ My Adam Story,

When I first started working at the call center I really did not think that I would fit in. I had no sales experience or call center experience in the past and was worried about dealing with so many phone calls and questions. I remember the day I was sitting at my desk and Adam was sitting next to me and he heard me on the phone with my guest. Adam leaned over and offered assistance without me even having to ask. After I finished with my guest on the phone I thanked Adam which is when we actually met and started talking. Adam had a wealth of knowledge about superhero characters which I thought was funny because I tried to talk about the comic books I read when I was growing up then realized I was so behind on my characters. Adam always said hello to me every day I came to work and anytime we sat near each other he was always friendly and enjoyed sharing stories. I mentioned that I was trying to exercise and Adam will tell me about his diet and how he was working on his health because he wanted to spend as much time as he could with his family. Adam will be missed by everyone he came into contact with.

Adam we will miss you

“ Hi,
Adam was an amazing Team Member who had a heart of gold and interacted with anyone and everyone he came in contact with.. He always had a smile on his face. I remember walking by him in the hallway and he would always drag out my name, “Frrrrrank”. It was so cool getting to know Adam, but also enjoyed hearing how much he loved his daughter and wife. He will be deeply missed.

“ What I did realize about Adam was that he was determined and loved his family very much. He was determined to accomplish any feat given him whether it is personal or business and for that I commend him for trying instead of quitting which was a lot easier. R.I.P Adam many of us will be joining you down that Glorious Road one day.
