“ Al, Lori n Andrea,
I am truly sorry I was not able to be there with all of you today, n my sincere condolences to each one of you, my heart aches n I feel like part of me is also gone today... Words couldn't describe what I feel. As Clint would prob remind me, I couldn't spell it anyways even if I tried, "cuz I'm a foreigner"... and that always made me laugh, in fact Clint has always put a smile on my face n I felt like he was family to me. It's not gonna be easy the journey from here on, but at least we know he is today resting in peace with God, cuz the pain n suffer is now gone, and the reason he left us this soon must because if anyone did not deserve that suffering was Clint, one of the best man I have ever got to know so far in my life, and he forever will keep that place in my heart, no matter what... My love n positive thoughts will always be with you guys, and may our new Angel Clint look after all of us now... I'm here for you if u ever need me! Thank you for always being there for me, and thank you Clint for giving the opportunity n the grace to be part of my life, thank u for all that you have taught me n for giving me the honor to call u my brother!
Much love to all of you...

“ Lori and family,
I know your hearts are breaking with Clint's passing. I wish I had words to take away your grief, but I can't even imagine how you must be feeling. Just know that I will keep you and your family in my thoughts and prayers during this time of grieving.

“ Mike and I want to extend our sympathy to your family. Our hearts ache for you! Tom kept us in the loop as Clint battled his cancer. A journey no young man needs to take. We had the privilege of knowing Clint in Boy Scouts, Pow Wows(Indian Dancing) and as an adult. We always enjoyed seeing and visiting with him. His quick smile was priceless!!! Keep smiling Clint.....God has chosen someone special!!!!

“ Lori and Al --- I didn't know! I saw where Clint was married and assumed all was going well. Oh, I'm so, so terribly sorry you have to tread through this journey. It's the worst thing to befall a parent. I don't know what it is to lose a treasured child to a devastating illness, but I know what it is to lose a child to a tragic accident, and unfortunately, there are more of us survivors than is comfortable. If I can ever be of help to support either of you, it has been 31 years for me, and I'm not a trained professional, though I counseled with two, but I know talking with others helped me choose the words that gave me hope and strength.

I was touched to read that you feel privileged to have had Clint as a son Yes, you were, and Clint would have said the same of you. I feel the same about Tiffany. We're very blessed to have given birth and given every part of ourselves to such special persons in our lives.

Godspeed, Clint!
