Judy was born on October 8, 1943, in Mattoon, IL to the late Lawrence E. and Ida "Fern" (Graham) Williams. She married Johnnie R. Brown on December 21, 1990; he preceded her in death on August 11, 2007. She is survived by two daughters, Teresa A. Coy and husband Robert of Maryville, TN, Angie R. Patrick and husband Marty of Boonville, MO; three step-children, Tony Brown and wife Nora of Booneville, MS, Vicki Cox and husband Terry of Carrollton, MS, Susan Marshall of Amory, MS; fourteen grandchildren and twenty-one great-grandchildren; two brothers, Roger Williams and wife Donna of Byhalia, MS, Robert Williams and significant other Cathy, of Neoga, IL; one sister, Marsha McCoy of Mattoon, IL; and her beloved canine companion, Cooper. As a beautician, Judy thoroughly enjoyed her career, where she developed many friendships along the way and truly loved her clientele. However, her passion for gardening was apparent to all who knew her. Tending to her vegetable and flower garden was therapeutic for Judy and the beauty and serenity she created was a picture perfect scenery for all to admire. In addition, she was a talented cook. Her dishes were always a favorite during the holidays and at gatherings.

Beautiful on the inside and out, kindhearted, and generous were just a few of her attributes. A loving and devoted mother, grandmother, sister, and friend, the warm memories of Judy will live on.

Memorials in her honor may be made to The Parkinson Foundation, 200 SE 1st Street, Suite 800, Miami, FL 33131.

“ Judy was a bonus mom instead of a step mom to me. She was so good to me and my family. I'm so glad she was part of my life. I will miss talking to her and asking about a recipe. I love you Judy. Prayers for your family.

I know one thing Vicky when your dad and Judy got married. You could see that they just shined in all the pictures that I've seen and been around them. I don't think I've ever seen two people more in love than them and I know in my heart, they are together again.
