“ I was blessed to have met Karen ten years ago when I moved in next door to her in a tri-plex. Our back doors were always open & we might as well lived together! She was always baking something for me to try, which cost me 40 pounds the first year! When I was sick she went to the store for me, picked my son up from school. She was my angel, as she referred to me after I took her to Decatur to have her gallbladder removed. She always felt like she owed me if I did a nice thing for her. I'd say, "That's what friends are for." I could tell how independent & giving of herself she was. She was always making baked goods, wire Christmas trees, raffia baskets, & more. Karen had many talents & much love to give that will be truly missed. To my best friend, Thank you for knowing me. We shall meet again. Until then, know this, I love you.
