“ Mom you’re still loved and talked about. We all miss you and share smiles as we exchange stories. Too many to recall as we are getting older ourselves. I come around from time to time. I’ve been with your son for 57 years. You and Pa raised a very special man. Thank you for all the joy you had given me while you were here. All the laughs and giggles! Your friendship is one of the closest I’ve ever had with anyone. Love you!

Mom it would have been your birthday today. Of course I would have baked you Wayne’s favorite cake, white with vanilla frosting. We still talk about you almost daily. You’re always in our hearts Mom. Like I had told you before “Some days are Diamonds some days are Stones”. Credit for lyrics to John Denver. This still holds true. Give Pa a hug from us. We’ll always love and miss both of you. Your family💕

“ Mom, you wouldn't believe the terrible things that are happening in this world you had left behind. So much evil, hate, pandemic having taken over 180,000 American lives now. Do you see? Do you already know? You my rock are missed so much even more now than ever. Wayne is doing better with his health now. Evie holding her own since the loss of Willie. Me? We'll I'm still staying strong in my belief that I will see you again some day. I am getting old now but am certain you won't forget my spirit nor my laugh. You'll always be a shining diamond and those are so easy to spot. They say your not really gone until the last person that knew you speaks your name no more. That's ok cause we'll be back together doing our outings, me cracking you up and you will not be that doubting Thomas you spoke to me of because you have already met Jesus! Pa will be with you as well. I promise to always speak your name as well as Pa's. Thank for being my friend, my mother in law and always treating me like your daughter. Thank you for your son who I love to this day. Mostly thank you for being you!

“ I had told you that from the words of John Denver Some days are diamonds and some days are stones. I cherish all of the days we had together that were our diamond days. We walked the stones together as good friends. You never seemed like my mother in law but you were my dearest friend. My diamond among friends Mom Hetzer. Love you, Pat

“ Dear Hetzer family, I am so sorry for your loss. I can't even begin to know what you are going through at this time. One of the things that helps me to cope with the loss of a loved one is the thoughts found in the Bible at John 5:28,29. We see that God is going to bring our loved ones back to life. At Revelation 21:4 we see that God is going to eliminate all sickness, sorrow, pain, and death forever. Also at Psalm 37:10,11,29 we see that God is going to destroy all wicked evil people and only those who are good in God's eyes are going to be the ones who have the chance of living forever. It is my sincere hope that these thoughts bring your family comfort at this time. Once again I am so sorry for your loss,
